Signature Programs

Cultivating a Culture that Thrives

Culture isn't just "soft stuff"—it's the engine of performance and profits. Disconnected teams and leaders hurt your results. Lori Hanson, The Success Whisperer™, a Culture Strategist, blends humor, insight, and actionable strategies to help executives transform disconnected teams into high-performing, engaged workplaces. Attendees leave with three powerful steps to build trust, ignite collaboration, and elevate results, plus practical tools to reduce stress and boost energy. Lori shows leaders how to navigate tough conversations with confidence, inspire their teams, and turn culture into a measurable driver of organizational and personal success

The Champions Mindset

What does it take to perform at your best—even when pressure is high and obstacles are stacked against you? The Champions Mindset reveals the mental habits, discipline, and resilience strategies used by elite athletes and top-performing executives. Lori Hanson blends sports psychology, neuroscience, and real-world leadership experience to show audiences how to train their brain for clarity, confidence, and consistent results.

In this energizing keynote, Lori teaches how to break limiting patterns, elevate focus, and tap into the inner drive required to excel. Participants discover how champions think, prepare, and recover—and how to apply those same principles to their work and life. Attendees leave inspired and equipped with actionable tools to boost performance, stay mentally strong, and create results that reflect their full potential.

Amplify Your Voice, Own Your Influence

Every woman has a voice—not every woman feels free to use it. Women leaders are expected to be confident, decisive, and unshakeable—yet still face bias and pressure to “fit in.” In this powerful, no-fluff keynote, Lori Hanson empowers women to step into their strength with authenticity and purpose—sharing inspiring stories and hard-won lessons from her personal and corporate journey. She helps women eliminate self-doubt, speak with authority, and lead with unapologetic authenticity. Learn how to command the room, navigate resistance, and negotiate from a position of strength.

Your audience will leave with tools to boost confidence, gain respect, negotiate with ease and advocate for themselves with confidence and grace.
